

RULES
THE VIRGINIA BOARD OF BAR EXAMINERS
(Reference: Title 54.1 of the Code of Virginia of 1950, as amended.)

SECTION I: EXAMINATIONS

A. Unless otherwise directed by the Virginia Board of Bar Examiners (the "Board"), each year bar examinations will be held on two successive days in either the City of Richmond or Norfolk beginning on the Tuesday immediately preceding the last Wednesday in February, and in the City of Roanoke beginning on the Tuesday immediately preceding the last Wednesday in July.

B. Each examination will consist of two exam parts, with each part having a morning and an afternoon session. The Essay exam, given on Tuesday, is prepared and graded under the supervision of the Board. The Essay exam includes essay and multiple choice questions and may test the applicant's knowledge in the following areas:

Agency	Criminal Law	Professional Responsibility	Uniform Commercial Code
Conflict of Laws	Domestic Relations	Real and Personal Property	Virginia Civil and Criminal
Constitutional Law	Equity	Sales	Procedure (including
Contracts	Evidence	Taxation	appellate practice)
Business Organizations	Federal Practice and Procedure	Torts	Wills and Estate Administration
Creditor's Rights	Local Government Law	Trusts

The Multistate Bar Examination, given on Wednesday, is compiled and scored by the National Conference of Bar Examiners. The Multistate exam is intended to test the applicant's knowledge of:

Constitutional Law	Criminal Law and Procedure	Real Property	Civil Procedure
Contracts	Evidence	Torts

C. All applicants must take the Essay and the Multistate exams at the same exam administration in Virginia. The scores of both exams will be weighted and combined to determine if the applicant has achieved a minimum overall passing score of 140. Such weighting shall be made by combining 60% of the Essay exam scaled score and 40% of the Multistate exam scaled score. Only applicants who achieve the minimum overall passing score and who have satisfied all other requirements for admission will be licensed to practice law in Virginia. No applicant will be eligible to be licensed after the expiration of five (5) years from the date of the examination on which such applicant received a passing score.

D. MULTISTATE PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY EXAMINATION. Before being licensed to practice law in Virginia, an applicant must submit to the Board evidence that the applicant has, within the calendar year the applicant passes the Virginia Bar Examination or within the two calendar years immediately preceding or following such year, achieved a scaled score of 85 or better on the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination ("MPRE") administered by the National Conference of Bar Examiners. The MPRE is administered in March, August and November of each year at various locations across the country.

SECTION II: ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

A. An applicant for a Virginia Bar Examination shall:

1. have received a juris doctor degree from a law school approved by the American Bar Association, or the Board; or
2. be enrolled and in good standing in any such approved law school and, in the course of regular study, complete ALL degree requirements prior to the time such examination is given; or
3. have been approved by the Board and thereafter completed the required period of law study as set forth in the Law Reader Program Rule and Regulations of the Virginia Board of Bar Examiners.

B. No applicant will be issued a license to practice law in Virginia until the applicant has received a juris doctor degree from an approved law school, or has successfully completed the required period of law study referred to above, and has furnished evidence of same to the Board.

C. Study by correspondence or in a non-approved law school does not satisfy the foregoing requirements.

SECTION III: CHARACTER AND FITNESS REQUIREMENTS

A. No person shall be licensed to practice law in Virginia by the Board unless such person first produces evidence satisfactory to the Board that the applicant is a person of honest demeanor and good moral character and possesses the requisite fitness to perform the obligations and responsibilities of a practicing attorney. The applicant has the burden to prove by clear and convincing evidence that the applicant possesses these qualifications. If an applicant fails to answer any question on the Character and Fitness Questionnaire or which is otherwise propounded by the Board, or to supply any requested information or documents, the Board may find that the applicant has not met the burden of proving good moral character and fitness.

B. The primary purpose of character and fitness screening before admission to the Virginia Bar is to assure the protection of the public and safeguard the system of justice. An attorney should be one whose record of conduct justifies the trust of clients, adversaries, courts, and others with respect to the professional duties owed to them. A record manifesting a significant deficiency in the honesty, trustworthiness, diligence, or reliability of an applicant may constitute a basis for denial of admission. The revelation or discovery of any of the following may be treated as cause for further inquiry before the Board decides whether the applicant possesses the character and fitness to practice law:

1. commission or conviction of a crime;
2. violation of the honor code of the applicant's college or university, law school, or other academic misconduct;
3. making of false statements or omissions, including failing to provide complete and accurate information concerning the applicant's past;
4. misconduct in employment;
5. other than an honorable discharge from any branch of the armed services;
6. acts involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation;
7. abuse of legal process;
8. neglect of financial responsibilities;
9. neglect of professional obligations;
10. violation of an order of a court;
11. denial of admission to the bar in another jurisdiction on character and fitness grounds;
12. disciplinary action by a lawyer disciplinary agency or other professional disciplinary agency of any jurisdiction, including pending, unresolved disciplinary complaints against the applicant;
13. commission of an act constituting the unauthorized practice of law, or unresolved complaints involving allegations of the unauthorized practice of law;
14. failure to respond promptly to requests from the Board or the Character and Fitness Committee, or any other failure to cooperate with the Board or the Committee; and
15. any other conduct that reflects adversely upon the character or fitness of an applicant.

C. The Board shall determine whether the present character and fitness of an applicant shall qualify the applicant for admission to the practice of law. In making this determination, the following factors will be considered in assigning weight and significance to the applicant's prior conduct:

1. age of the applicant at the time of the conduct;
2. recency of the conduct;
3. reliability of the information concerning the conduct;
4. seriousness of the conduct;
5. factors underlying the conduct;
6. cumulative effect of the conduct or information;
7. evidence of rehabilitation;
8. positive social contributions of the applicant since the conduct;
9. candor of the applicant in the admissions process; and
10. materiality of any omissions or misrepresentations.

D. In addition to demonstrating adequate knowledge of the fundamental principles of law and their application, an applicant must produce clear and convincing evidence to the satisfaction of the Board, in its sole discretion, that the applicant has the requisite character and fitness to:

1. comply with deadlines;
2. communicate honestly, candidly and civilly with clients, attorneys, courts and others;

3. conduct financial dealings in a responsible, honest and trustworthy manner;
4. avoid acts that are illegal, dishonest, fraudulent or deceitful; and
5. conduct himself or herself in accordance with the requirements of applicable state, local and federal laws and regulations, any applicable order of a court or other tribunal, and the Virginia Rules of Professional Conduct.

E. Any applicant who affirmatively asserts rehabilitation from prior conduct which bears adversely upon such applicant's character and fitness for admission to the Bar shall be required to produce clear and convincing evidence to the satisfaction of the Board of such rehabilitation. That evidence shall include, at a minimum:

1. the applicant's strict compliance with specific conditions imposed by the Board or the Committee on Character and Fitness, as well as any disciplinary, judicial, administrative or other order, where applicable;
2. the applicant's unimpeachable character and moral standing in the community, including affirmative recommendations from people aware of the applicant's misconduct who specifically consider the individual's fitness in light of that behavior;
3. the applicant's good reputation for professional ability, where applicable;
4. the applicant's lack of malice and ill feeling toward those who by duty were compelled to bring about the disciplinary, judicial, administrative or other proceeding, and to any victim thereof;
5. the applicant's personal assurance, supported by corroborating evidence, of an intention to engage in exemplary behavior in the future;
6. the applicant's restitution of funds or property, where applicable; and
7. the applicant's sustained and substantial behavior in the applicant's occupation, religion, or community or civic service demonstrating rehabilitation to the satisfaction of the Board. Merely showing that the applicant is currently living as and doing those things he or she should have done throughout life, although necessary to prove rehabilitation, does not prove that the applicant has been rehabilitated and has undertaken a useful and constructive place in society.

F. The Board's obligation to the public requires the Board to address recent mental health and substance abuse matters, which in any way affects an applicant's ability to perform any of the obligations and responsibilities of a practicing lawyer in a competent, ethical and professional manner. The purpose of these inquiries is to determine the fitness of an applicant to practice law. The mere fact of treatment for mental health conditions or substance abuse is not, in itself, a basis on which an applicant is denied admission in Virginia, and the Board regularly licenses individuals who have demonstrated personal responsibility and maturity in dealing with mental health and substance abuse issues. The Board encourages applicants who may benefit from treatment or counseling to seek it. Most diagnoses and treatments are not required to be disclosed. Only when an applicant's condition or impairment is so severe that it affects his or her ability to practice law in a competent, ethical and professional manner is it relevant to the applicant's character and fitness and, therefore, must be disclosed. A license may be denied or deferred when an applicant's ability to function is impaired in a manner relevant to the practice of law at the time the licensing decision is made, or when an applicant's responses demonstrate a lack of candor.

G. In evaluating whether an applicant is eligible for admission to practice law in Virginia, the Board considers whether the following essential eligibility requirements have been met, based upon the information supplied by the applicant and from the character and fitness investigation:

1. knowledge of the fundamental principles of law and the ability to recall that knowledge, to reason, to analyze, and to apply one's knowledge to relevant facts;
2. the ability to communicate clearly, candidly and civilly with clients, attorneys, courts, and others;
3. the ability to exercise good judgment in conducting one's professional business;
4. the ability to conduct oneself with a high degree of honesty, integrity, and trustworthiness in all professional relationships and with respect to all legal obligations;
5. the ability to conduct oneself with respect for and in accordance with the law and the Rules of Professional Conduct;
6. the ability to avoid acts that exhibit disregard for the health, safety and welfare of others;
7. the ability to conduct oneself diligently and reliably in fulfilling all obligations to clients, attorneys, courts, and others;
8. the ability to use honesty and good judgment in financial dealings on behalf of oneself, clients, and others;
9. the ability to comply with deadlines and time constraints; and
10. the ability to conduct oneself professionally and in a manner that engenders respect for the law and the profession.

H. Each applicant must file with the Board a completed Character and Fitness Questionnaire and pay the required fee. The character and fitness fee shall be set by the Board. The current fee schedule is available at barexam.virginia.gov.
